NEGOTIATING TO SETTLE THE FRENCH DEBT

PRES. COOLIDGE INFORMS CALLERS AT WHITE HOUSE

AMBASSADOR HERRICK TO PRESENT FULL STATEMENT

U. S. POSITION ON REFUNDING FRENCH DEBT ENUNCIATED

(By United Press)
Washington, May 12.—President Coolidge today told callers at the White House that this government is carrying on negotiations in an attempt to work out some plan of settlement of the French debt of four billion dollars. The president has decided not to discuss this question, however, because communications from this side might irritate French opinion and make a settlement more difficult.

The memorandum which Ambassador Herrick will present to Finance Minister Caillaux today is a full and exhaustive statement of the United States' position on refunding the French debt which was prepared by the debt funding commission and not by the state department, it was said here today. Increased importance was attached to the communication in diplomatic quarters, and its origin in the debt funding commission was learned. It was believed Herrick will probably transmit the memorandum verbally since Caillaux has insisted that the negotiations so far be upon informal and unofficial basis which leaves him less liable to attack by his political enemies.

CAILLAUX HAS PLAN TO BOLSTER FINANCES

Pars, May 12.—Finance Minister Caillaux laid before the finance committee of the chamber of deputies today his plan for restoring the French finances to a normal basis, a plan upon which the fate of the Painleve government depends.

Caillaux alleged he wants to use the French share of the Dawes' annuities to complete rebuilding the devastated area. The Painleve cabinet has approved the plan and every phase of the project will be a question of confidence. If the chamber votes against any part of the plan Painleve will resign.

Western Union officials and employees who received and handled the bomb package later sent to Chapman, failed to identify one suspect yesterday.

Although the spokesman made clear that the president had not yet studied the report and recommendations on the subject submitted to him last night, he believed Armistice Day is dedicated to thoughts of peace instead of military defense.

TWO COUNTRY BANKS FAIL, FARMERS LOSERS

FORMER PRESIDENT ARRESTED, SHORTAGE CLOSE TO $380,000

PRESIDENT STENE'S ATTORNEY MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

(By United Press)
Atwater, Minn., May 12.—Salaries into the unknown pan of finance were given today as reasons for the crash of two banks, the arrest of the former president and the revealing of shortages aggregating approximately $380,000.

The two banks, the First National here and the Farmers State Bank at Kandiyohi are short more than a quarter million dollars, and Henry Stene, former president, is in jail, specifically charged with forging a $2,500 note. He was arrested yesterday as he stepped from a Twin City bus returning home from an extended trip to California and Arizona.

Scores of farmers, lifelong friends of the banker, will be ruined financially with the crash of the two institutions closed February 14th by the state banking department. It is expected that the shortages will approach the half million dollar mark.

According to Sheriff Peter Bonde, who made the arrest, Stene went out among the farmers and small town business men who were depositors, and obtained "accommodation paper," notes signed in blank, which he filled out, withdrawing the cash and leaving the notes as security.

Most of the money was invested in an Arizona gold mine, county authorities allege. The unstable condition of the bank was covered for several months by means of the accommodation notes. The crash came when the unpaid notes fell due.

Although Stene remained in Atwater approximately two months after the banks were closed, he was not arrested. After his departure for Arizona, depositors of the bank here were notified of a $290,000 shortage and a $90,000 shortage at the Kandiyohi institution.

Warrants were issued for his arrest, but before service could be obtained in Arizona he had left for California, Arizona officials declared. Stene is to be arraigned today before Judge A. O. Forsberg at Willmar on the forgery count.

Though the shortages are admitted, Stene is not involved, according to Charles R. Fletcher, Minneapolis, Stene's attorney.

"I know there are shortages in both of the banks, but I am here to say Henry Stene never got a penny of that money. He overloaned on poor security and the reason for the banks' close is frozen credits. Stene did loan money to two brothers who were interested in gold mining properties in Arizona. When they were unable to meet the notes, he took possession of the property which will be turned over. I believe the mining property will fully cover the shortages," Mr. Fletcher said.

FOREST FIRES IN 3 COUNTIES WORST IN SPRING

STATE FORESTER BLAMES THEM ON CARELESS TROUT FISHERMEN

MORE THAN 1,000 MEN BATTLING FLAMES IN DULUTH REGION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, May 12.—The worst forest fires on the spring records are now burning in Lake, Hubbard and St. Louis counties, according to C. M. Conzet, state forester, who has just returned from an inspection trip north of Duluth.

Conzet blamed the blazes on trout fishermen who carelessly abandoned camp fires. More than 1,000 men today are battling the flames within a radius of 50 miles of Duluth, he said.

The damage so far has been mostly confined to timber, but high winds make the situation somewhat menacing. Rain falling today in the southeastern part of the state is expected to sweep northward and may possibly extinguish the fires within 12 hours, he believed.

EXTRA GUARDS OVER THE JAIL NOW ON DUTY

(By United Press)

Sheriff Forney placed additional guards at the jail during the night, but no untoward incident occurred, he reported today.

ST. PAUL PLACED ON WORLD ROUTE OF WATERWAYS

FREIGHT RATES TO ANY POINT ON THE UNIVERSE NOW POSSIBLE

GOVERNMENT BARGES WILL MEET ST. PAUL LINE AT ST. LOUIS

St. Paul, May 12.—Waterway rates from St. Paul to any point in the world now are possible.

This was announced by the River Transit Co., which loaded the first cargo of cars yesterday afternoon to be shipped from the $250,000 Ford terminal.

The River Transit Co., with its light draft barges towed by a tug boat, has made possible river navigation. Running as far as St. Louis connections are made with government barges which in turn relay the freight to New Orleans.

Freight rates by water, therefore, can be quoted by this company which is the only one operating on the Upper Mississippi river.

Because of the lower rates by water the development of river navigation is expected to revolutionize the shipping industry in the Twin Cities. Certain commodities can be shipped to San Francisco or New York much cheaper than by rail.

The perfection of the light draft barge plan endorsed by the Ford Motor Co., now in the stages of experimentation, will make this possibility an eventuality.

The shipment of the first load of Ford cars, billed for Winona, Minn., will mark an epoch in the industrial development of St. Paul. With the large river terminal at the Ford plant it will make possible the shipping of certain commodities to any point in the world.

The first cargo will contain about 24 cars and trucks. Because the elevators in the Ford plant are not yet in working order the cars will be run down to the river bank under their own power and onto the barge over the gang plank.

The original plan of lowering the cars to one of the huge tunnels under the manufacturing building and running them out to the dock can not be utilized until the elevators are running, it was said.

The work of moving the Minneapolis branch virtually was completed Sunday. The new plant this morning started on capacity production of 500 cars daily.

CROWDED GALLERIES OF REICHSTAG BURST INTO CHEERS

SEETHING CROWDS IN STREETS CONTAINED MANY WOMEN

(By United Press)
Berlin, May 12.—Facing the reichstag where friends and enemies sat silent for a moment after the tumultuous roar that greeted him, Paul von Hindenburg, erstwhile field marshal of the Imperial army today took the oath of office that made him president of the German republic.

"I swear," rumbled Hindenburg in the gruff, deep voice known to his staff and soldiers in war time, "to dedicate my power to the welfare of the German people; to augment their advantages; to shield them from misfortune; to observe the constitution; and laws; to perform my duty conscientiously and dispense even-handed justice," he added, using the religious form which was omitted by the late President Ebert.

A storm of cheers and cries burst from the crowded galleries and it was taken up by the immense throng of men and women outside the building held in check by innumerable police.

Flags of the old empire in red, white and black again today outnumbered those of the Republic. Having retired early, Hindenburg rose at 6 A. M. in accordance with the dictates of military habits. He had spent the night at the chancellery as the guest of Chancellor Luther and ate breakfast of bread and butter and eggs in solemn aloofness. As is his custom, Hindenburg then smoked his cigar in the garden.

Shortly before noon, Hindenburg and Luther drove to the reichstag. The streets along the route were filled by seething crowds waving flags of red, white and black. There were many youths, but women outnumbered the men five to one.

Among the witnesses who will appear are Abe Wolson, Lawrence, Kansas, pawn shop proprietor, who will testify that he sold a 38-caliber revolver to young Dillon the day preceding the murder.

Chicago, May 12.—President Calvin Coolidge is rendering a great service to the country by practicing personal as well as governmental economy, Edward N. Hurley, wartime head of the United States Shipping Board, declared today in an interview with the United Press.

FIELD MARSHAL TAKES OATH OF OFFICE IN PUBLIC

CROWDED GALLERIES OF REICHSTAG BURST INTO CHEERS

SEETHING CROWDS IN STREETS CONTAINED MANY WOMEN

(By United Press)
Berlin, May 12.—Facing the reichstag where friends and enemies sat silent for a moment after the tumultuous roar that greeted him, Paul von Hindenburg, erstwhile field marshal of the Imperial army today took the oath of office that made him president of the German republic.

"I swear," rumbled Hindenburg in the gruff, deep voice known to his staff and soldiers in war time, "to dedicate my power to the welfare of the German people; to augment their advantages; to shield them from misfortune; to observe the constitution and laws; to perform my duty conscientiously and dispense even-handed justice," he added, using the religious form which was omitted by the late President Ebert.

A storm of cheers and cries burst from the crowded galleries and it was taken up by the immense throng of men and women outside the building held in check by innumerable police.

Flags of the old empire in red, white and black again today outnumbered those of the Republic. Having retired early, Hindenburg rose at 6 A. M. in accordance with the dictates of military habits. He had spent the night at the chancellery as the guest of Chancellor Luther and ate breakfast of bread and butter and eggs in solemn aloofness. As is his custom, Hindenburg then smoked his cigar in the garden.

Shortly before noon, Hindenburg and Luther drove to the reichstag. The streets along the route were filled by seething crowds waving flags of red, white and black. There were many youths, but women outnumbered the men five to one.

Beethoven's Triumph

One of the most pathetic cases of deafness was that of Beethoven. Why should it have happened that he who lived supremely in the world of sound, the very breath of whose life was made up of sweet chords and entrancing melody, should have been deprived of the sense of hearing? Unconscious even of the storm of applause evoked by his playing, he was on one occasion turned round by a singer that he might see the waving hats and handkerchiefs of his enthusiastic audience. Yet the victory of mind over matter was clearly evidenced in the case of Beethoven, for some of his most sublime compositions were created after his sense of hearing was hopelessly destroyed and the world heard with delight the exquisite harmony that only in imagination could enter his own somber realm of silence.—Exchange.

Low Country

Some flat lands are beautiful, though Ruskin says not—the flatness of Holland, where a barge with rich red color seems to come sailing into the flowering fields; where a windmill or a dyke takes all the wind of the huge sky; where brimming rivers are pearl gray, and the roofs of the close little towns are red, and the lucid horizon line is broken by, instead of mountains, such things as a cow feeding or a broad-breasted woman towing a barge, from the clean deck of which a child sings, a little dog barks.—Alice Meynell.

Long Hours of Toil

A century ago (or in the so-called good old days) Amasa Whitney operated a factory in Winchester, Mass., and, according to the American Outlook, he had sixteen rules and regulations, the first of which was: "The mill will be put in operation ten minutes before sunrise at all seasons of the year. The gates will be shut ten minutes past sunset from the 20th of March to the 20th of September; at thirty minutes past eight from the 20th of September to the 20th of March; Saturday at sunset."

Miss Alice R. Johnson, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Johnson, Played at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin

Miss Alice R. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Johnson, of Brainerd, in company with three other artists, presented a very delightful musical program at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, according to the press of that city.

Rev. A. W. Raabe, vocalist, Mrs. Raabe, organist, Miss Phyllis Burton, violinist and Miss Johnson were the principals on the program. Miss Burton visited at the Johnson home last summer, and made a number of friends during her brief stay.

The Fond du Lac paper has the following to say of Miss Johnson's contribution to the program:

"Miss Johnson played a double part on the program, that of piano soloist and also accompanist for Miss Burton, and she did it to the entire satisfaction of the audience, which appreciated her artistic and efficient work in both capacities.

"Her solo numbers were 'Pau Dances' by Boultelle; 'Tarantelle' by Moszkowski, 'Larghetto in F minor' by Chopin and 'Seguidilla' by Albeniz and they showed her talent in several styles of music.

"Miss Johnson is a student in Chicago and her audience Saturday evening felt that she has a brilliant future as a pianist. She played here last year with Burton and the friends she made then were glad to welcome her again.

"The program was one which had been arranged to suit all musical tastes and the only criticism the audience might offer was that it was all too short, even though the artists responded to encores."

Growing Dahlias From Seed

Iris societies, gladiolus clubs, and now dahlia organizations have done a great deal for American gardening by developing and spreading the habit of plant breeding at home because the crossing is simple and raising of these three plants gives a wonderful variety of new forms and, in the case of the first two, rarely two that are identical. While the iris takes from two to three years, the gladiolus from one to two, the dahlia is an annual when raised from seed and always blooms the first season if sown in April in a warm situation.

NEW DAHLIA TYPES

It may be sown in the open ground as soon as the weather is reliably warm, with a chance of bloom the same year if there is no killing frost until well into October.

The dahlia seed resembles that of the zinnia and needs much the same treatment. The one care that must be taken is that the seed box or bed does not dry out, but it also must not be kept water logged. Transplant the dahlias as soon as they have made two leaves, into pots or into boxes, about four inches apart, and give them plenty of sun until they

Clothes already packed in either boxes or sacks need not be repacked. As a church supper will be held on that afternoon, it will afford a good opportunity to bring bundles for packing. These packed boxes and sacks will remain in the basement of the church until Friday, May 15th, Bundle Day, when they will be conveyed to the freight depot and given in charge of C. Bruhn, who assigns to each organization the freight to be paid on the number of pounds of clothes sent.

Those who have bundles for Near East Relief and are not affiliated with any organization are asked to get in touch with those operating, who will receive the credit for the can be set into the ground. They will spring up in hurry into as big plants as those grown from mature tubers.

It is now possible to obtain seed of the wonderful new giant types which are the astonishment of the floral world by their size and brilliancy of colors. From a packet of seed of these fine types, any gardener may get as fine plants as he might have to pay $25 for in named roots. There is always this chance, owing to the variability of the plant. There is also a better chance that he will not, but the dahlias that he does get none of them will be disappointing. There will be a surprising range of colors in one packet of seed from pure white, yellow, pink to the deep scarlets and maroons.

It pays to buy the expensive dahlia seeds if one desires to get the finest plants. Fifty seeds for fifty cents will give fifty plants of unusual beauty and character if the grower uses ordinary care. The seeds have a high percentage of germination and from a fifty-seed packet it is not unusual to get the full fifty plants. will be fine, handsome plants and

In district court Tuesday the jury in the case of the Unique Illustrating company against A. Mark found for the plaintiff, and assessed the damages in the sum of $125.39, with interest at 6 per cent, amounting to $34.53, or a total of $159.92. The cases on trial Tuesday were Muria Soulis against J. A. Schultz and Iva Mae Mouzakis against J. A. Schultz, which were tried jointly by stipulation.

In the case of Muria Soulis, it is alleged that the plaintiff was injured in an automobile collision with the defendant near the four-mile corner on Oak street, east of Brainerd, on the evening of July 25, 1924, through careless driving and negligence on the part of the defendant. The plaintiff is suing for $10,000 with interest, together with re costs and disbursements.

The case of Iva Mae Mouzakis is the result of injuries from the same automobile accident. The plaintiff asks damages in the sum of $5,000 with interest, costs and disbursements.

M. E. and C. A. Ryan are attorneys for the plaintiffs, and Murphy & Cook, of Crosby, represent Mr. Schultz.

The jury in this case is composed of Oscar Forslund, P. A. Anderson, Louis Miller, Lester W. Bratt, L. Bentley, L. P. Solberg, Frank Carter, Charles Scranton, Albert Debolt, F. E. Foote, W. A. Clark and Mrs. Walter Dutka.

The grand jury, which retired to its deliberations on Monday, has not yet reported. Judging from the amount of work before it, this jury will be busy for several days. Edward Crust is foreman of the jury.

AN UNRESTRICTED NEIGHBORHOOD

AN "unrestricted neighborhood" is what faces the residential district of Brainerd. True, down in the business section, a new building code outlines the type of building to be erected, etc., but in the residence section of Brainerd one finds that even that title "residence" section is a misnomer.

Nowhere, so far as we know, is there a lot restriction, building line, etc. In Southeast Brainerd, for instance, where a block of residences observed a kindly spirit and each householder built some distance from the lot line, a new man in the middle of the block built a business place flush with the lot line and partially shut off the street view of his neighbors. In the absence of any restrictions, a man may put a store in any section of Brainerd.

The town of Crosby has building restrictions that are observed. Coleraine would never have been a model town if the necessary building restrictions as to type of store and home had not been enforced. It is something in which Brainerd has been very slack and very careless.

Take the matter of porches. One householder builds back some distance from the lot line, his next door neighbor may run an ugly, view-destroying sleeping porch addition flush to the sidewalk and "pocket" the view up and down the street of his neighbor.

Under the heading "Keeping Up a Neighborhood" the St. Cloud Times takes up other phases of this question. Theoretically a man who owns property ought to have the right to do what he wants to with his own land. Yet practically the man who does just as he wishes with his own property may create serious damage to his neighbors.

For instance, if a man who owns a home in a pretty residence neighborhood should put up an ugly chicken coop in a conspicuous position, the neighborhood is to some extent damaged. Real estate promoters often establish restrictions on the use of land which those purchasing consent to for the benefit of the neighborhood.

Some people may object to certain restrictions, on the ground that they interfere too far with private rights. Yet these conditions may make the land more attractive to others because they seem to make the property more secure against deterioration. The bulk of the residence property in American towns has probably been sold without such conditions. An unrestricted neighborhood must rely on the good sense of its residents to keep their property in good shape.

People ought to realize that if they make any addition that is inappropriate or ugly, or if they put up structures unsuited to the location, a damage is done not merely to their neighbors, but to themselves as well. The inexpensively built town may show so much refinement in its homes and the care given to them, that it looks more pleasing and livable than one in which the average cost of the dwellings was twice as much.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK NEEDED

ACTIONS speak louder than words. Organizations in the city to improve Brainerd should depend on concrete work accomplished, substantial things achieved, which do not require a guide book to be located. Resolutions are all right, in a way, as showing the drift of opinion, but mere resolutions never landed a new industry or enlarged an old one.

Brainerd has an idle, old court house. It should be made to earn its "keep." The canning industry can be made a great factor in this county. Canning does pay and Crow Wing county string beans, Bantam sweet corn, tomatoes, strawberries, raspberries, etc., are known in this state and in states to the south and east. It's just a little home canning establishment conducted for years by G. W. Hunt, of Bay Lake, but his product is winning wide honor and his business is daily increasing.

A man named Ellis makes a good line of brooms. With a little encouragement, he can be established in Brainerd. Ellis doesn't ask any bonus. All he wants is merchants and housewives to buy his product. If everybody bought their brooms from Ellis, he could give employment to three or four broom makers the year around.

What this town needs is a lot of small industries employing from two to ten men.

A "DAWN to dusk" flight will be essayed by Mayor Colonel Ralph Webb of Winnipeg. He will not use an airplane, but will tie forth in his trusty automobile. It is hoped that international relations will not be strained should some mean justice of the peace "pinch" the colonel for speeding.

OUR foreign creditors are funny people. We loan them money and now we have come to consider it quite a stroke of diplomacy to get one of our customers to admit he owes us anything at all. Some are so forgetful they omit such transactions from their budgets.

The Minnesota Cooperative Egg & Poultry Exchange plans a poultry dressing plant which will commence operations in the fall season. New district exchanges are in process of organization at the present time in the territories of Wadena, Fergus Falls and Willmar.

THE St. Cloud-Willmar bus line has discontinued operations. It is said that during the winter, when it was difficult to run an automobile, many people used the bus line. With the return of spring weather and good roads, people again drove their own cars.

MARRIED men are more safe than once they were, comments the Illinois State Journal. Women can't hit as hard with can openers as they could with rolling pins.

If five feet of snow is to fall at this time of the year, we consider Big Hole Basin the proper receptacle to receive it.

It is claimed that Ontario's 4.4 beer will bring a large tourist rush to Canada.

ELKS of Little Falls presented an excellent Mothers' Day program.

AMUSEMENTS

Irene Rich Declares Her Work in "Behold This Woman" Her Hardest

Irene Rich, who portrays the leading feminine role in "Behold This Woman," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre tonight and Wednesday, declares this to be one of the most difficult roles she has ever had.

The character is complex and unusual in a dramatic production. It is that of a famous motion picture star, and during the action Miss Rich is called upon to play several scenes in a motion picture studio. She impersonates a friend of the most vampish caliber and acts comically with delicious abandon. With wit, and numerous bizarre gowns she becomes a dozen different women, yet with all there is the role of Louise Maurel, with whose life the photo-play deals.

Griffith Furnishes Many Laughs in "Forty Winks"

Lord Algernon Cholomondeley—that's an awful name for anyone to have to go through life with and Raymond Griffith couldn't even stand it for a motion picture so he cut it short to Chumley for his characterization of a titled English gentleman in the new Paramount picture, "Forty Winks," at the New Park tonight and Wednesday. Griffith is featured with Viola Dana and Theodore Roberts in the picture which was directed by Paul Iribe and Frank Urson.

Some of the picture's biggest laughs—and greatest thrills for that matter—are contained in water scenes wherein Griffith puts over some great stuff in a speed boat. Here's where Ray's training as a sailor proved a big help. Griffith has long been the owner of a combination sailing and power yacht and his insight into nautical affairs is second only to that of old man Neptune himself.

Reserve Energy Both

Mental and Physical

Everyone knows what it is to start a piece of work, either mental or muscular, feeling stale—or cold, as an Adirondack guide once put it is to "warm up" to his job, writes William James in "The Energies of Men." The process of warming up gets particularly striking in the phenomenon known as "second wind." On usual occasions we make a practice of stopping an occupation as soon as we meet the first effective layer (so to call it) of fatigue. We have then walked, played, or worked "enough," so we desist. That amount of fatigue is an efficacious obstruction on this side of which our usual life is cast. But if an unusual necessity forces us to press onward, a surprising thing occurs. The fatigue gets worse up to a certain critical point, when gradually or suddenly it passes away, and we are fresher than before. We evidently tapped a level of new energy, masked until then by the fatigue obstacle usually obeyed. There may be layer after layer of this experience. A third and a fourth "wind" may supervene. Mental activity shows the phenomenon as well as physical, and in exceptional cases we may find, beyond the very extremity of fatigue distress, amounts of ease and power that we never dreamed ourselves to own—sources of strength habitually not taxed at all, because habitually we never push through the obstruction, never pass those early critical points.

Dancers Occupy Stage for But Few Minutes

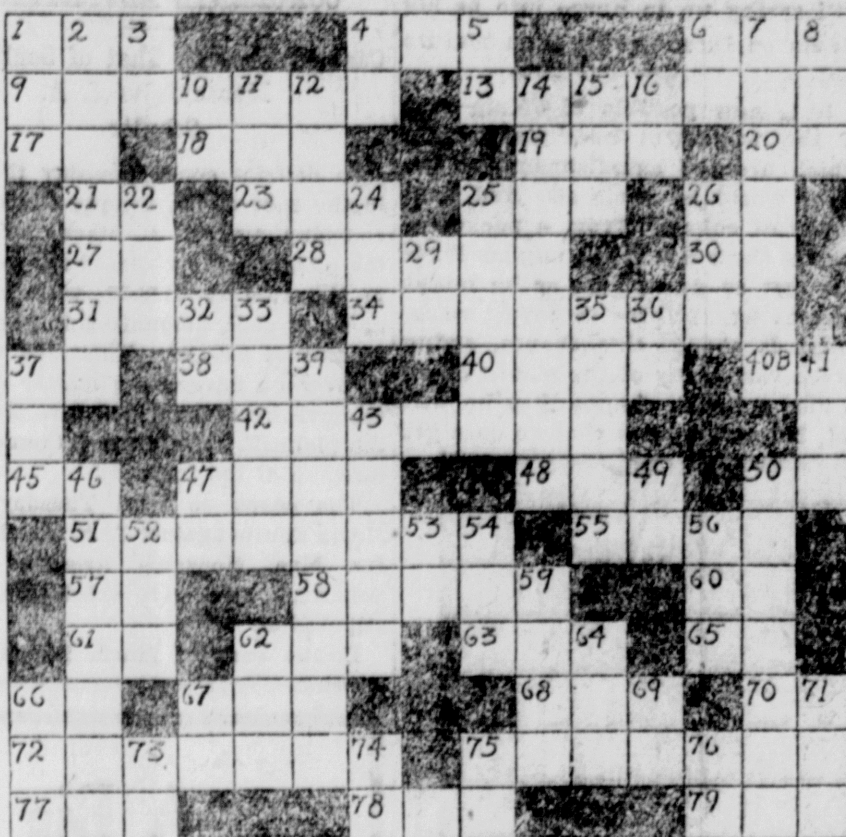

A team of dancers who appear nightly in one of the most popular supper clubs on Broadway received a letter from a Park avenue woman, asking them to dance at one of her parties. The manager of the dancers replied to the letter, stating that the team would be very glad to appear and that their fee was $600.

This brought forth another letter from the matron, who protested that the fee was too high, for the reason that she

AN UNRESTRICTED NEIGHBORHOOD

AN "unrestricted neighborhood" is what faces the residential district of Brainerd. True, down in the business section, a new building code outlines the type of building to be erected, etc., but in the residence section of Brainerd one finds that even that title "residence" section is a misnomer.

Nowhere, so far as we know, is there a lot restriction, building line, etc. In Southeast Brainerd, for instance, where a block of residences observed a kindly spirit and each householder built some distance from the lot line, a new man in the middle of the block built a business place flush with the lot line and partially shut off the street view of his neighbors. In the absence of any restrictions, a man may put a store in any section of Brainerd.

The town of Crosby has building restrictions that are observed. Coleraine would never have been a model town if the necessary building restrictions as to type of store and home had not been enforced. It is something in which Brainerd has been very slack and very careless.

Take the matter of porches. One householder builds back some distance from the lot line, his next door neighbor may run an ugly, view-destroying sleeping porch addition flush to the sidewalk and "pocket" the view up and down the street of his neighbor.

Under the heading "Keeping Up a Neighborhood" the St. Cloud Times takes up other phases of this question. Theoretically a man who owns property ought to have the right to do what he wants with his own land. Yet practically the man who does just as he wishes with his own property may create serious damage to his neighbors.

For instance, if a man who owns a home in a pretty residence neighborhood should put up an ugly chicken coop in a conspicuous position, the neighborhood is to some extent damaged. Real estate promoters often establish restrictions on the use of land which those purchasing consent to for the benefit of the neighborhood.

Some people may object to certain restrictions, on the ground that they interfere too far with private rights. Yet these conditions may make the land more attractive to others because they seem to make the property more secure against deterioration. The bulk of the residence property in American towns has probably been sold without such conditions. An unrestricted neighborhood must rely on the good sense of its residents to keep their property in good shape.

People ought to realize that if they make any addition that is inappropriate or ugly, or if they put up structures unsuited to the location, a damage is done not merely to their neighbors, but to themselves as well. The inexpensively built town may show so much refinement in its homes and the care given to them, that it looks more pleasing and livable than one in which the average cost of the dwellings was twice as much.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK NEEDED

ACTIONS speak louder than words. Organizations in the city to improve Brainerd should depend on concrete work accomplished, substantial things achieved, which do not require a guide book to be located. Resolutions are all right, in a way, as showing the drift of opinion, but mere resolutions never landed a new industry or enlarged an old one.

Brainerd has an idle, old court house. It should be made to earn its "keep." The canning industry can be made a great factor in this county. Canning does pay and Crow Wing county string beans, Bantam sweet corn, tomatoes, strawberries, raspberries, etc., are known in this state and in states to the south and east. It's just a little home canning establishment conducted for years by G. W. Hunt, of Bay Lake, but his product is winning wide honor and his business is daily increasing.

A man named Ellis makes a good line of brooms. With a little encouragement, he can be established in Brainerd. Ellis doesn't ask any bonus. All he wants is merchants and housewives to buy his product. If everybody bought their brooms from Ellis, he could give employment to three or four broom makers the year around.

What this town needs is a lot of small industries employing from two to ten men.

A "DAWN to dusk" flight will be essayed by Mayor Colonel Ralph Webb of Winnipeg. He will not use an airplane, but will lie forth in his trusty automobile. It is hoped that international relations will not be strained should some mean justice of the peace "pinch" the colonel for speeding.

OUR foreign creditors are funny people. We loan them money and now we have come to consider it quite a stroke of diplomacy to get one of our customers to admit he owes us anything at all. Some are so forgetful they omit such transactions from their budgets.

THE Minnesota Cooperative Egg & Poultry Exchange plans a poultry dressing plant which will commence operations in the fall season. New district exchanges are in process of organization at the present time in the territories of Wadena, Fergus Falls and Willmar.

THE St. Cloud-Willmar bus line has discontinued operations. It is said that during the winter, when it was difficult to run an automobile, many people used the bus line. With the return of spring weather and good roads, people again drove their own cars.

MARRIED men are more safe than once they were, comments the Illinois State Journal. Women can't hit as hard with can openers as they could with rolling pins.

IF five feet of snow is to fall at this time of the year, we consider Big Hole Basin the proper receptacle to receive it.

It is claimed that Ontario's 4.4 beer will bring a large tourist rush to Canada.

AMUSEMENTS

Irene Rich Declares Her Work in "Behold This Woman" Her Hardest

Irene Rich, who portrays the leading feminine role in "Behold This Woman," which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre tonight and Wednesday, declares this to be one of the most difficult roles she has ever had.

The character is complex and unusual in a dramatic production. It is that of a famous motion picture star, and during the action Miss Rich is called upon to play several scenes in a motion picture studio. She impersonates a friend of the most famous actress and acts comically with delicious abandon. With wigs and numerous bizarre gowns she becomes a dozen different women, yet with all there is the role of Louise Maurel, with whose life the photograph deals.

Griffith Furnishes Many Laughs in "Forty Winks"

Lord Algonquin Cholomondeley—that's an awful name for anyone to have to go through life with and Raymond Griffith couldn't even stand it for a motion picture so he cut it short to Chumley for his characterization of a titled English gentleman in the new Paramount picture, "Forty Winks," at the New Park tonight and Wednesday. Griffith is featured with Viola Dana and Theodore Roberts in the picture which was directed by Paul Iribe and Frank Urson.

Some of the picture's biggest laughs—and greatest thrills for that matter—are contained in water scenes wherein Griffith puts over some great stuff in a speed boat. Here's where Ray's training as a sailor proved a big help. Griffith has long been the owner of a combination sailing and power yacht and his insight into nautical affairs is second only to that of old man Neptune himself.

Reserve Energy Both Mental and Physical

Everyone knows what it is to start a piece of work, either mental or muscular, feeling stale—or cold, as an Adirondack guide once put it to "warm up" to his job, writes William James in "The Energies of Men." The process of warming up gets particularly striking in the phenomenon known as "second wind." On usual occasions we make a practice of stopping an occupation as soon as we meet the first effective layer (so to call it) of fatigue. We have then walked, played, or worked "enough," so we desist. That amount of fatigue is an efficacious obstruction on this side of which our usual life is cast. But if an unusual necessity forces us to press onward, a surprising thing occurs. The fatigue gets worse up to a certain critical point, when gradually or suddenly it passes away, and we are fresher than before. We evidently tapped a level of new energy, masked until then by the fatigue obstacle usually obeyed. There may be layer after layer of this experience. A third and a fourth "wind" may supervene. Mental activity shows the phenomenon as well as physical, and in exceptional cases we may find, beyond the very extremity of fatigue distress, amounts of ease and power that we never dreamed ourselves to own—sources of strength habitually not taxed at all, because habitually we never push through the obstruction, never pass those early critical points.

VOLLEY BALL CHAMPIONSHIP WAS
RUN OFF WITH BY SOPHOMORES

The girls' volley ball tournament was held last Monday and Tuesday and the games were interesting throughout.

On Monday night the first game was between the Freshmen and Seniors. The Freshies, playing a good game, won their first victory. The second game was between the Sophs and Juniors. The Sophs were feared by all their opponents. They ran off with both games. The Juniors, after their defeat from the Sophs, decided that they were going to win the game from the Freshies. This game was interesting, one team playing equally as well as the other. But the Freshies came out on the long end, when their second game score was 15 to 11.

On Tuesday night the Seniors were out for a victory but bad luck was theirs, letting the Sophs have another victory. The Juniors were going to show their talent by winning at least one game, but they failed, in a hard fought game with the Seniors.

The most interesting and exciting game of the tournament was between the Sophs and Freshies, the Freshmen winning the first game by their skill in returning the ball. The Sophs had hard luck when serving their balls. They either hit the ceiling or out side, although they did do wonderful returning, as the ball was in play all the time. The second game was won by the Sophs after a long fought battle over the returning and serving of the ball. The last of the games was uncertain until the last minute as to who was to win the championship. The Freshies were unable to get under the ball as they had during their previous victories. Grace Alant played the best game of the tournament. She served and returned the balls as fast as lightning, which aided in bringing so many victories for the Freshies.

The winning team was composed of Edna Turner, Helen Beggs, capt., Gladys Reuter, Iona Hollingsworth, Bessie Varner and Alta Storm. Among this line-up it was sure to be found some wonderful players and they sure are too, with Beggs on the serving end and Turner at returning, the ball was kept up all the time. The others did their bit in winning the championship too.

The Junior team was composed of Eleanor Nolan, Esther Bentley, Bessie Smith, Evelyn Sabin, Kay Nolan, capt., Erma Claus, Gladys Smith and Bernice Samuelson.

On the Senior team were the following: Gert Link, capt., Irene Young, Katherine Samuelson, Sylvia Foster, Bernice White, Agnes Templeton, Adelia Betzold and Nina Roman.

The Freshmen line-up was Dot Koepple, capt., Minnie Larson, Grace Alant, Kathleen Early, Lois Unteraker, Hazel Korlaski, Geraldine McIntyre, Ruth Smart, Myrtle Peterson and Margaret Jackson.

Track Meet

On Tuesday, May 19, a girls' baseball game on the Koering grounds, will be held with the high school girls' track meet. Much time and care has been taken by Miss Jorandby for the selection of these girls from each class of the high school. While changes may be made the following list is a tentative one:

One hundred yard dash. Seniors—Gertrude Link, Irene Young, Agnes Templeton, Myla Trask. Juniors—Caroline Graff, Eleanor Nolan, Esther Bentley, Mardel Mraz. Sophomores—Ferne Lewis, Gladys Reuter, Helen Paine. Freshmen—Helen Templeton, Margaret Dillan, Nettie Edquist, Kathleen Early, Emma Jean Clarkson, Magdalene Koepple.

Two hundred yard dash. Seniors—Myla Trask, Mardel Mraz, Dorothy Quinlen. Juniors—Eleanor Nolan, Esther Bentley, Mercedes Johnson, Elizabeth Hansen. Sophomores—Gladys Reuter, Edna Turner, Ferne Lewis. Freshmen—Nettie Edquist, Nina Callahan, Emma Jean Clarkson, Margaret Dillan, Magdalene Koepple, Kathleen Early.

One mile run. Seniors—Sylvia Foster, Irene Young, Gertrude Link, Juniors—Katherine Nolan, Norma Calka, Evelyn Sabin. Sophomores—Thelma Hendrickson, Iona Hollingsworth, Maude Davis. Freshmen—Magdalene Koepple, Helen Templeton, Nina Callahan.

Running Broad Jump. Seniors—Delphine Winter, Rose Hogan, Sylvia Foster, Agnes Templeton. Juniors—Eleanor Nolan, Evelyn Sabin, Caroline Graff. Sophomores—Alta Storm, Helen Paine, Edna Turner, Helen Beggs. Freshmen—Kathleen Early, Magdalene Koepple, Miriam Finney.

We are very proud of these girls, who, we think would make Paavo Nurmi look to his laurels if he should hear of Ferne Lewis, one of the runners, must almost equal him for speed. She bends her head almost to the ground and makes most all the remaining competitors eat her dust. Edna Turner, when she goes over the bar, rivals a slow motion moving picture. Magdalene Koepple is the standby of the Freshmen as she is listed in all the sports.

This is the first year any track work among the girls has been attempted and the girls are especially anxious that a crowd will be there, so that their efforts shall not have been in vain.

The admission is ten cents and the proceeds will be donated to the Brainonian fund.

Come and support your class!

The end of the school year is drawing nigh.
And for vacation we all sigh.
For 3 long months no books we'll see,
And, oh, how happy we shall be.
There will be picnics all galore,
But still we'll wish that there were more.
Even though we have so much fun,
For school we'll sigh before summer's half done.

We'll sigh for the old friends of the past year,
And hope that September will soon be here.
And even though you wish that school were done,
You'll be wild to come back 'fore it's begun.
You may want vacation from school to be here,
But you'll be glad to come back next year.

Miss Larson in Modern History: "Kent, who were the big four who helped draw up the Versailles treaty?"

Kent Whitlock: "Pres. Wilson, Harold Lloyd—"

Caroline Graff (after batting a foul ball): "What's that, Florence?"

Teacher: "What is an eskimo?"
Student: "Oh, they live on ice."

Who, What and Where

The boys have come into their own again. We wish to make the following names a notable addition to the "boyless" list of '25 honor students, published in last week's Brainonian: Harry Drake, Albert Rathert, Theodore Helgeson.

Last week much interest was aroused over the staff picture which was posted on the bulletin board. We, ourselves, must admit that it was a good looking piece of photography but we can't tell whether the rest were admiring the handsome faces or picking out those that looked guilty of publishing seemingly obnoxious articles.

Miss Corna Stickney has succeeded Miss Scott in the office.

The great affection and esteem in which Miss Scott is held can be explained by the various social functions that are being given in her honor before her departure to her new home in Texas. Miss Oerting entertained at a six o'clock luncheon, the faculty, at a picnic, Mrs. Stone (Miss Benjamin) at a supper party, Miss Lowey at a party and Mrs. Parker at a card party.

Many of the faculty spent the week end out of town, the Misses Oldenburg and Smith at Itasca Park, Miss Lohr and Miss Oerting motored to the cities as did Mr. and Mrs. Rosel, Miss Thomas also was a visitor there, Mr. Johnson, Miss Tornstrom and Mr. Schaumburg packed into Mr. Johnson's new Ford and hid themselves to Minneapolis. Everyone reports an enjoyable time.

Next Sunday night, May 17th, the baccalaureate exercises will be held in the High School assembly at 8 o'clock. Selections will be given by the High School orchestra and Glee club while the speaker of the evening will be Rev. Patterson of the Presbyterian church. The Senior procession will be led by Harry Lyndon and Myla Trask, class president and secretary, respectively.

Monday night, May 18th will be Senior night with a fitting program given at 8 o'clock in the High school gymnasium. In other years Senior class day was held during school but the originality that is being shown this year needed a "night" open to the general public, to give the Seniors a chance to make known to the world their illustrious history which will be given by Elizabeth Folsom, to let one and all learn what they are dealing to B. H. S. in their will which will be read by Ruth Perlman.

And last but not least the glorious prophecy of ninety people which will be performed by themselves. Irma Brackner wrote the prophecy and introduced many new features which will certainly be appreciated by the audience if they claim a sense of humor.

Friday night the Seniors will entertain the Juniors at Rocky Point, Gull Lake. One hundred and twenty five people have signified their intention of going and as plenty of cars and cats have been provided everyone is assured of having a good time.

This morning almost all of the lucky Seniors and a few Juniors who take civics enjoyed a trip to the court house where an interesting case was being tried.

To The Freshman

If you tried to scour the High School From the first floor to the steeple,
You'd find the little Freshies
Are the most important people.

Of all the High School classes
The Freshman class is queen.
If it hadn't been for the Freshie,
Where would the Seniors have been?

They maybe can't play football,
Or hit a ball with a stick,
But you'll find in every game,
They don't give up so quick!

People laugh at Freshmen,
And say they're awfully green—
But as for me, I'll say,
They're the best class ever seen.

So I'm glad I am a Freshman,
No matter what folks say.
Three cheers for the little Freshies!
Three cheers! Hip, hip, hooray!
—M. J. D.

B. H. S. LOSES ANOTHER TO ST. CLOUD TECH
ERRATIC FIELDING BY LOCALS RESPONSIBLE

Brainerd high school lost its second game of the season last Friday afternoon, when they were defeated for the second time this season by the fast St. Cloud Tech baseball aggregation by a score of 8-2. Engbretson, Brainerd pitcher, pitched a nice game, only allowing six hits during the entire game, but poor support on the part of his teammates contributed to the locals' defeats.

Brainerd was able to garner but five hits on Davidson's delivery, two of which were the result of Swanson's bludgeon.

Never during the game was there any doubt of the final outcome as the Granite City team took the lead from the start and maintained it all the way, with M. Hanson leading the attack with two hits in four at-tempts.

Assembly Statues

Who is the Winged Victory? Very few know who this noted headless person in our assembly is. Headless and armless, yes—but winged to the greatest extent. Her large feathered wings overshadow and protect us while we are yet timid and inexperienced Freshies. She hides from our sight those awful signs on the front board, "Freshmen pay your dues or you can't have a picnic" and others. Ichabod Crane's Headless Horseman was insignificant compared to this famous personage.

Next in order comes George Washington. He, the hero of American people, has the honored place in our assembly, "right in the middle." I'm sure George attracts more attention than the other statues for he often is adorned by some student's necktie or hat.

Last but not least comes the heroine, Joan of Arc. Even some of our brightest students know not who this modest maiden is. Why, she's the Maid of Orleans. This heroine of the French who led others by sword and banner now sits calmly by the assembly door and watches others go by. Did you ever notice Joan never looks at the Sophomores but always watches the Freshies? It seems she doesn't realize that the Sophomores need watching too.

Four Weeks More

When you are tired and weary
Of carrying books and pens
You say, trying to be cheery
"Four weeks more and school will end."

When teachers are cross and cranky
And they catch you chewing gum.
You think "This will soon be over"
But you still feel rather glum.

When your knowledge seems to fail
You
In a mean old daily quiz
You know that you are almost through
"Only four weeks. Oh Gee Whiz!"

Next fall 'fore B. H. op'es her door
We'll say with an anxious sigh
Of waiting—"Only four weeks more!"
Then school comes again, Oh My!

These are mistakes made by English II students:
The bridal fell on the floor.
The currant was swift.
Give me some of those cloths. I want to flavor these pickles.
Nature cloths the animals.

BRAINLESS BITS

Miss Larsen: (In Botany) "Name three fibrous plants."
Viola McKay: "Flax, hemp, and wool."

Alice J.: (Ans. question when giving the cake demonstration.)
"If you put too many cakes in an egg it will make it stiff."

Mr. S.: "What is a vacuum?"
Jack: "I can't think just now, but it's something the class as a whole has in their heads."

Miss Hall: "Pres. Jackson had 17 pocket vetoes."
O. S.: "My, but he must of had big pockets."

Mr. Schaumburg: "What are the three states of water?"
Smart student: "Minnesota, Missouri and Nebraska."

Miss Hall: "How did we know that they wrote books and what they wrote about?"
Dorothy T.: "That's what the History says."

Miss Hall: "Tell about the Egyptian religion."
Marion: "They believed there was a place for the dead after they died."

Miss Oldenberg must be quite old as she used to teach Cicero.
M. T. to R. D. (the day after it rained): "Well, if you didn't go home on the 4:10 bus, how did you get there?"

R. D. very earnestly: "I swam."
Miss Larson: "How did Peter Europeanize Russia?"
H. S.: "He trimmed their whiskers."

Mr. Schaumburg in Science: "Mark what is the difference between climate and weather?"
M. P.: "Well—climate is the temperature the year around, while weather is what it is today and won't be tomorrow."

Advice

Freshmen and Sophomores must be sad.

While Juniors and Seniors are glad. Two or three more years from today, Freshmen and Sophomores will enjoy "May."

Juniors and Seniors are praying hard. That Friday, fifteenth, will not be marred.

Cheer up, lower classmen, and let's stick;
Hope they've a good time at their picnic.

On May seventeenth "Baccalaureate" will come;
Then May eighteenth, Senior class day, more fun!

Don't let that worry you; we'll have the same.
You just like school and remain in the game.

On to Rutger's—the Banquet May 23rd!

From each of upper classmen this is heard.
They will all be happy, joyous and free.

While we will be wishing it were we.
On May twenty-ninth, Seniors depart.

At Commencement they're all sad at heart.
They leave B. H. S. for 'ere and a day

While we have two or three more years to stay.
—A Sophomore.

Juniors and Seniors are working hard these few weeks. With work, excitement and exams it seems impossible for them all to survive, but of course we hope they do.

The topics of conversation are "the picnic at Rocky Point May 15th," "The Banquet May 23rd," "Baccalaureate Day May 17," "Senior Class Day May 18."

What are you going to wear?
Whose car are you going in? Don't you think it will be great?

Kitten Ball

Say there, what do we play to-day? Today is Thursday isn't it? Well then it is Kitten ball day.

They're all ready to go, better hurry Johnny. There's that mush ball in—swish, there goes the ball into the trees; and the man is also out on second. The voice of the umpire is heard: "two strikes, two balls" while "two men out," is heard from the rest of the players. Our pitcher got dust in his eyes and threw a straight ball ending in three men on base. The pitcher took time to take out his rock magnet and clean his eyes resulting in the fanning of the next slugger.

With the other fellows out in field the ball was started rolling again. There goes the ball. (voice from ump) "A strike." "A new umpire! A new umpire!" is heard, only with fruitless results.

It's a little sandy running to the bases with silk socks and tan oxfords, it also lessens the speed of the runner especially when there are sharp rocks that sink into the flesh.

Three men on base, a slugger's up and—swish, there goes the ball onto the green lawn with two little boys chasing it to make sure it will get home in time to save the old ball game.

Three minutes left and then the bell, three minutes more and all is well. All the boys go to the assembly, take their books and leave for home.

How Sad!

The volley ball game was interesting And the student thought so too. The chair tipped over and The floor was weak; And so she nearly went through.

Mayo L.: "What do you think I got in Geometry?"

John H.: "I can't think today."

Did your mother think more of your face
than you do?

When you were in your Go-Cart your hats were becoming.

Your Mother took time and talent to see that you looked as stylish as any other son and heir. Now what's happened?

Are you getting as much style as you should for your head?

If you will consult us before another day goes by—we'll turn you out as stylish as when you were in your Go-Cart.

VOLLEY BALL CHAMPIONSHIP WAS
RUN OFF WITH BY SOPHOMORES

The girls' volley ball tournament was held last Monday and Tuesday and the games were interesting throughout.

On Monday night the first game was between the Freshmen and Seniors. The Freshies, playing a good game, won their first victory. The second game was between the Sophs and Juniors. The Sophs were feared by all their opponents. They ran off with both games. The Juniors, after their defeat from the Sophs, decided that they were going to win the game from the Freshies. This game was interesting, one team playing equally as well as the other. But the Freshies came out on the long end, when their second game score was 15 to 11.

On Tuesday night the Seniors were out for a victory but had luck was theirs, letting the Sophs have another victory. The Juniors were going to show their talent by winning at least one game, but they failed, in a hard fought game with the Seniors.

The most interesting and exciting game of the tournament was between the Sophs and Freshies, the Freshmen winning the first game by their skill in returning the ball. The Sophs had hard luck when serving their balls. They either hit the ceiling or out side, although they did do wonderful returning, as the ball was in play all the time. The second game was won by the Sophs after a long fought battle over the returning and serving of the ball.

The last of the games was uncertain until the last minute as to who was to win the championship. The Freshies were unable to get under the ball as they had during their previous victories. Grace Alzant played the best game of the tournament. She served and returned the balls as fast as lightning, which aided in bringing so many victories for the Freshies.

The winning team was composed of Edna Turner, Helen Beggs, Gladys Reuter, Iona Hollingsworth, Bessie Varner and Alta Storm. Among this line-up it was sure to be found some wonderful players and they sure are too, with Beggs on the serving end and Turner at returning, the ball was kept up all the time. The others did their bit in winning the championship too.

The Junior team was composed of Eleanor Nolan, Esther Bentley, Bessie Smith, Evelyn Sabin, Kay Nolan, Erma Claus, Gladys Smith and Bernice Samuelson.

On the Senior team were the following: Gert Link, capt., Irene Young, Katherine Samuelson, Sylvia Foster, Bernice White, Agnes Templeton, Adelia Betzold and Nina Roman.

The Freshmen line-up was Dot Koepple, capt., Minnie Larson, Grace Alzant, Kathleen Early, Lois Unteraker, Hazel Korlaski, Geraldine McIntyre, Ruth Smart, Myrtle Peterson and Margaret Jackson.

Track Meet

On Tuesday, May 19, a girls' baseball game on the Keoring grounds, will be held with the high school girls' track meet. Much time and care has been taken by Miss Jorandby for the selection of these girls from each class of the high school. While changes may be made the following list is a tentative one:

One hundred yard dash. Seniors—Gertrude Link, Irene Young, Agnes Templeton, Myla Trask. Juniors—Caroline Graff, Eleanor Nolan, Esther Bentley, Mardel Mraz. Sophomores—Ferne Lewis, Gladys Reuter, Helen Paine. Freshmen—Helen Templeton, Margaret Dillan, Nettie Edquist, Kathleen Early, Emmajean Clarkson, Magdalene Koepple.

Two hundred yard dash. Seniors—Myla Trask, Mardel Mraz, Dorothy Quinlen. Juniors—Eleanor Nolan, Esther Bentley, Mercedes Johnson, Elizabeth Hansen. Sophomores—Gladys Reuter, Edna Turner, Ferne Lewis. Freshmen—Nettie Edquist, Nina Calahan, Emmajean Clarkson, Margaret Dillan, Magdalene Koepple, Kathleen Early.

Five Run. Seniors—Sylvia Foster, Irene Young, Gertrude Link. Juniors—Katherine Nolan, Norma Calkin, Evelyn Sabin. Sophomores—Thelma Hendrickson, Iona Hollingsworth, Maude Davis. Freshmen—Magdalene Koepple, Helen Templeton, Nina Calahan.

Running Broad Jump. Seniors—Delphine Winter, Rose Hogan, Sylvia Foster, Agnes Templeton. Juniors—Eleanor Nolan, Evelyn Sabin, Caroline Graff. Sophomores—Alta Storm, Helen Paine, Edna Turner, Helen Beggs. Freshmen—Kathleen Early, Magdalene Koepple, Miriam Finney.

We are very proud of these girls, who, we think would make Paavo Nurmi look to his laurels if he should hear of Ferne Lewis, one of the runners, must almost equal him for speed. She bends her head almost to the ground and makes most all the remaining competitors eat her dust. Edna Turner, when she goes over the bar, rivals a slow motion moving picture. Magdalene Koepple is the standby of the Freshmen as she is listed in all the sports.

This is the first year any track work among the girls has been attempted and the girls are especially anxious that a crowd will be there, so that their efforts shall not have been in vain.

The admission is ten cents and the proceeds will be donated to the Brainerd fund.

Come and support your class!

The end of the school year is drawing nigh.

And for vacation we all sigh. For 3 long months no books we'll see, And, oh, how happy we shall be. There will be picnics all galore, But still we'll wish that there were more.

Even though we have so much fun, For school we'll sigh before summer's half done.

We'll sigh for the old friends of the past year, And hope that September will soon be here.

And even though you wish that school were done, You'll be wild to come back 'fore it's begun.

You may want vacation from school to be here, But you'll be glad to come back next year.

Miss Larson in Modern History: "Kent, who were the big four who helped draw up the Versailles treaty?"

Kent Whitlock: "Pres. Wilson, Harold Lloyd."

Caroline Graff (after batting a foul ball): "What's that, Florence?"

Frey: "What is an eskimo?"

Student: "Oh, they live on ice."

Teacher: "What is an eskimo?"

Student: "Oh, they live on ice."

Teacher: "What is an eskimo?"

Student: "Oh, they live on ice."

Who, What and Where

The boys have come into their own again. We wish to make the following names a notable addition to the "boyless" list of '25 honor students, published in last week's Brainerdian: Harry Drake, Albert Rathert, Theodore Helgeson.

Last week much interest was aroused over the staff picture which was posted on the bulletin board. We, ourselves, must admit that it was a good looking piece of photograph but we can't tell whether the rest were admiring the handsome faces or picking out those that looked guilty of publishing seemingly obnoxious articles.

Miss Corna Stickney has succeeded Miss Scott in the office.

The great affection and esteem in which Miss Scott is held can be explained by the various social functions that are being given in her honor before her departure to her new home in Texas. Miss Oerting entertained at a six o'clock luncheon, the faculty, at a picnic, Mrs. Stone (Miss Benjamin) at a supper party, Miss Lowey at a party and Mrs. Parker at a card party.

Many of the faculty spent the week end out of town, the Misses Oldenburg and Smith at Itasca Park, Miss Lohr and Miss Oerting motored to the cities as did Mr. and Mrs. Rosel, Miss Thomas also was a visitor there. Mr. Johnson, Miss Tornstrom and Mr. Schaumburg packed into Mr. Johnson's new Ford and hid themselves to Minneapolis. Everyone reports an enjoyable time.

Next Sunday night, May 17th, the baccalaureate exercises will be held in the High School assembly at 8 o'clock. Selections will be given by the High School orchestra and Glee club while the speaker of the evening will be Rev. Patterson of the Presbyterian church. The Senior procession will be led by Harry Lyndon and Myla Trask, class president and secretary, respectively.

Monday night, May 18th will be Senior night with a fitting program given at 8 o'clock in the High school gymnasium. In other years Senior class day was held during school but the originality that is being shown this year needed a "night" open to the general public, to give the Seniors a chance to make known to the world their illustrious history which will be given by Elizabeth Folsom, to let one and all learn what they are deeding to B. H. S. in their will which will be read by Ruth Perlman.

And last but not least the glorious prophecy of ninety people which will be performed by themselves. Irma Brackner wrote the prophecy and introduced many new features which will certainly be appreciated by the audience if they claim a sense of humor.

Friday night the Seniors will entertain the Juniors at Rocky Point, Gull Lake. One hundred and twenty five people have signified their intention of going and as plenty of cars and eats have been provided everyone is assured of having a good time.

This morning almost all of the lucky Seniors and a few Juniors who take civics enjoyed a trip to the court house where an interesting case was being tried.

To The Freshman

If you tried to scour the High School From the first floor to the steeple, You'd find the Little Freshies Are the most important people.

Of all the High School classes The Freshman class is queen. If it hadn't been for the Freshie, Where would the Seniors have been?

They maybe can't play football, Or hit a ball with a stick, But you'll find in every game, They don't give up so quick!

People laugh at Freshmen, And say they're awfully green— But as for me, I'll say, They're the best class ever seen.

So I'm glad I am a Freshman, No matter what folks say, Three cheers for the little Freshies! Three cheers! Hip, hip, hooray!

B. H. S. LOSES ANOTHER TO ST. CLOUD TECH
ERRATIC FIELDING BY LOCALS RESPONSIBLE

Brainerd high school lost its second game of the season last Friday afternoon, when they were defeated for the second time this season by the fast St. Cloud Tech baseball aggregation by a score of 8-2. Engbretson, Brainerd pitcher, pitched a nice game, only allowing six hits during the entire game, but poor support on the part of his teammates contributed to the locals' defeat.

Brainerd was able to garner but five hits on Davidson's delivery, two of which were the result of Swanson's bludgeon.

Never during the game was there any doubt of the final outcome as the Granite City team took the lead from the start and maintained it all the way, with M. Hanson leading the attack with two hits in four attempts.

Assembly Statues

Who is the Winged Victory? Very few know who this noted headless person in our assembly is. Headless and armless, yes—but winged to the greatest extent. Her large feathered wings overshadow and protect us while we are yet timid and inexperienced Freshies. She hides from our sight those awful signs on the front board, "Freshmen pay your dues or you can't have a picnic" and others. Ichabod Crane's Headless Horseman was insignificant compared to this famous personage.

Next in order comes George Washington. He, the hero of American people, has the honored place in our assembly, "right in the middle." I'm sure George attracts more attention than the other statues for he often is adorned by some student's necktie or hat.

Last but not least comes the heroine, Joan of Arc. Even some of our brightest students know not who this modest maiden is. Why, she's the Maid of Orleans. This heroine of the French who led others by sword and banner now sits calmly by the assembly door and watches others go by. Did you ever notice Joan never looks at the Sophomores but always watches the Freshies? It seems she doesn't realize that the Sophomores need watching too.

Four Weeks More

When you are tired and weary Of carrying books and pens You say, trying to be cheery "Four weeks more and school will end."

When teachers are cross and cranky And they catch you chewing gum You think, "This will soon be over" But you still feel rather glum.

When your knowledge seems to fail you In a mean old daily quiz You know that you are almost through "Only four weeks. Oh Gee Whiz!"

Next fall 'fore B. H. op'es her door We'll say with an anxious sigh Of waiting—"Only four weeks more! Then school comes again, Oh My!"

Kitten Ball

Say there, what do we play to-day? Today is Thursday isn't it? Well then it is kitten ball day.

They're all ready to go, better hurry Johnny. There's that mush ball in—swish, there goes the ball into the trees; and the man is also out on second. The voice of the umpire is heard: "two strikes, two balls" while "two men out," is heard from the rest of the players. Our pitcher got dust in his eyes and threw a straight ball ending in three men on base. The pitcher took time to take out his rock magnet and clean his eyes resulting in the fanning of the next slugger.

With the other fellows out in field the ball was started rolling again. There goes the ball. (voice from ump) "A strike." "A new umpire!" is heard, only with fruitless results.

Mr. S.: "What is a vacuum?" Jack: "I can't think just now, but it's something the class as a whole has in their heads."

Miss Hall: "Pres. Jackson had 17 pocket vetoes."

O. S.: "My, but he must of had big pockets."

Mr. Schaumburg: "What are the three states of water?"

Smart student: "Minnesota, Missouri and Nebraska."

Miss Hall: "How did we know that they wrote books and what they wrote about?"

Dorothy T.: "That's what the History says."

Miss Hall: "Tell about the Egyptian religion."

Marion: "They believed there was a place for the dead after they died."

Miss Oldenberg must be quite old as she used to teach Cleero.

M. T. to R. D. (the day after it rained): "Well, if you didn't go home on the 4:10 bus, how did you get there?"

R. D. very earnestly: "I swam."

Miss Larson: "How did Peter Europeanize Russia?"

H. S.: "He trimmed their whiskers."

Mr. Schaumburg in Science: "Mark what is the difference between climate and weather?"

M. P.: "Well—climate is the temperature the year around, while weather is what it is today and won't be tomorrow."

Advice

Freshmen and Sophomores must be sad.

While Juniors and Seniors are glad. Two or three more years from today, Freshmen and Sophomores will enjoy "May."

Juniors and Seniors are praying hard, That Friday, fifteenth, will not be marred.

Cheer up, lower classmen, and let's stick; Hope they've a good time at their picnic.

On May seventeenth "Baccalaureate will come;

Then May eighteenth, Senior class day, more fun!

Don't let that worry you; we'll have the same.

You just like school and remain in the game.

On to Ruttger's—the Banquet May 23rd!

From each of upper classmen this is heard.

They will all be happy, joyous and free,

While we will be wishing it were we.

On May twenty-ninth, Seniors depart,

At Commencement they're all sad at heart.

They leave B. H. S. for 'ere and a day

While we have two or three more years to stay.

—A Sophomore.

Juniors and Seniors are working hard these few weeks. With work, excitement and exams it seems impossible for them all to survive, but of course we hope they do.

The topics of conversation are "the picnic at Rocky Point May 15th."

"The Banquet May 23rd," "Baccalaureate Day May 17," "Senior Class Day May 18."

LIONS CLUB IN MINSTREL SHOW

Many New Stars to Twinkle in Firmament of Make Believe

AT NEW PARK, MAY 19 AND 20

Home Talent Production Staged in a Most Excellent Manner

Many new stars will beam in the firmament over the land of make believe, when the Brainerd Lions Club presents its rip-roaring minstrel show and musical comedy at the New Park theatre on next Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19 and 20.

This great home talent production, staged under the direction of the John B. Rogers Producing Company, so favorably known in Brainerd through the excellent productions presented in the past, is said to far eclipse anything previously attempted locally, and theatre goers are promised a big surprise and a real treat in next week's offering.

Rehearsals have been going on for over a week, with everyone in the cast highly enthused and anxious to make the show a big success. A very fine selection of voices has been obtained, both for the solo and chorus parts. A number of these are new to the local stage, but are only another proof that this city is far above the average in theatrical talent.

"The Lions Minstrel Mimics," for that is the name of the musical fantasy, is in three sections, each complete in itself, and each highly entertaining. The first is the up-to-date minstrel section, an entirely new thing in its line, and is not to be confused with the old time minstrel show. Twenty-three Lions form the circle, and give an excellent program of new jokes and catchy songs.

The second section is entitled "A day at the Brainerd Country Club Links," with a chorus of 18 girls, and the "Pop-pop Song Revue" with a chorus of 12 young ladies. The songs and dances in this section are especially catchy, many new steps being introduced.

The third section, "The Isle of Never Known" is said to be a knock-out, containing several hilarious surprises. It is a musical comedy, with heavy accent on the comedy. Ten island belles, in grass skirts keep the audience entertained when the eight comedians are not broadcasting side splitters. A great deal of painstaking work is being put on this section, with the promise that it will be the big climax of the whole show.

The Brainerd Lions Club feels particularly grateful for the splendid cooperation of local talent in responding to the request for chorus and solo work. The response was instantaneous, and the cast is putting a great deal of time and enthusiasm into its practice, with the result that a much more finished production will be staged on Tuesday and Wednesday than was anticipated by the most optimistic. It will be an even greater success than could have been hoped for a week ago, and it is hoped that the public will respond to the efforts of the cast by turning out in force on each night.

The funds realized from this entertainment will be used by the Lions Club to further its extensive civic program, outlined for this season. Tickets are already being offered for sale, and are going like hot cakes. The cost is very reasonable, being $1 plus the tax.

Announcements of the principals in the cast and the song hits, with other details of the Minstrel Mimics, will be published later.

SEEKS HENRY TREWIE

Mrs. M. F. Games Writes Chief of Police Asking His Whereabouts

Mrs. M. F. Games, of 2322 Broadway, Everett, Washington, has written to Chief of Police, Roy N. Zierke, asking assistance in locating Henry Trewie, whom she states was formerly a resident of Brainerd.

In her letter, Mrs. Games states that Mr. Trewie lived in this city 24 years ago, and was both a painter and a butcher. He married Miss Annie McDonald, to which union two daughters were born. One died in 1881, the other was born the following year.

His second marriage was to Miss Maggie Whalen, of whom the letter states early residents will recall as singing in the local Catholic church choir in the early eighties.

Any who may know of the whereabouts of Mr. Trewie are asked to advise the chief of police, or to write to Mrs. Games direct.

GIVES STORY OF INDUSTRIAL GAS

L. Dow, Representing Brainerd Gas & Electric Co. to Speak at Chamber of Commerce

STORY OF MUCH INTEREST

Advantage of Gas From a Community Standpoint Will be Explained

The story of industrial gas will be told by L. Dow, representing the Brainerd Gas and Electric Company, at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening.

This story will be of unusual interest to local citizens, and it is hoped that a large number will turn out to hear Mr. Dow. There are 5,000 industrial uses for gas, and the speaker will explain some of the most important of these that can be used to good advantage in Brainerd.

The advantages of gas from a community viewpoint will be explained by the speaker, with a description of the new methods used at the Brainerd plant in its manufacture. The fact that gas is smokeless is of considerable importance, for smoke does more damage annually than is generally realized, says Mr. Dow.

Comparisons in the gas rates of Brainerd and other cities will be made and explained. The address will be followed by an open forum, at which questions may be asked regarding the local gas situation.

Action will be taken at the Chamber meeting for entertaining the Minneapolis wholesalers who will be in Brainerd May 23rd on their friendship tour.

Matters of importance relative to the "Trade at Home" campaign and the improving of the athletic park will be taken up. All members of the Chamber are asked to make a special effort to attend Wednesday's meeting.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON HOLIDAY

For First National Bank Employees During the Months of June, July, and August

The First National Bank is again preparing to observe the Saturday hours this year according to the action taken by the Directors about a year ago when they amended the By-laws by making the business hours for Saturday from 9 o'clock A. M. to 1 o'clock P. M., during the months of June, July and August.

This will enable the employees to enjoy a few more hours of out door recreation during the summer season, thereby better fitting themselves physically for their work during the long, cold winter months to follow.

This plan seemed to work very successfully last season and it is hoped that the patrons of the bank will enter into the spirit of the change, made for the benefit of the employees, and arrange their business in such a manner as to avoid any inconvenience.

LIONS CLUB IN MINSTREL SHOW

Many New Stars to Twinkle in Firmament of Make Believe

AT NEW PARK, MAY 19 AND 20

Home Talent Production Staged in a Most Excellent Manner

Many new stars will beam in the firmament over the land of make believe, when the Brainerd Lions Club presents its rip-roaring minstrel show and musical comedy at the New Park theatre on next Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19 and 20.

This great home talent production, staged under the direction of the John B. Rogers Producing Company, so favorably known in Brainerd through the excellent productions presented in the past, is said to far eclipse anything previously attempted locally, and theatre goers are promised a big surprise and a real treat in next week's offering.

Rehearsals have been going on for over a week, with everyone in the cast highly enthused and anxious to make the show a big success. A very fine selection of voices has been obtained, both for the solo and chorus parts. A number of these are new to the local stage, but are only another proof that this city is far above the average in theatrical talent.

"The Lions Minstrel Mimics," for that is the name of the musical fantasy, is in three sections, each complete in itself, and each highly entertaining. The first is the up-to-date minstrel section, an entirely new thing in its line, and is not to be confused with the old time minstrel show. Twenty-three Lions form the circle, and give an excellent program of new jokes and catchy songs.

The second section is entitled "A day at the Brainerd Country Club Links," with a chorus of 18 girls, and the "Pop-pop Song Revue" with a chorus of 12 young ladies. The songs and dances in this section are especially catchy, many new steps being introduced.

The third section, "The Isle of Never Known" is said to be a knockout, containing several hilarious surprises. It is a musical comedy, with heavy accent on the comedy. Ten island belles, in grass skirts keep the audience entertained when the eight comedians are not broadcasting side splitters. A great deal of painstaking work is being put on this section, with the promise that it will be the big climax of the whole show.

The Brainerd Lions Club feels particularly grateful for the splendid cooperation of local talent in responding to the request for chorus and solo work. The response was instantaneous, and the cast is putting a great deal of time and enthusiasm into its practice, with the result that a much more finished production will be staged on Tuesday and Wednesday than was anticipated by the most optimistic. It will be an even greater success than could have been hoped for a week ago, and it is hoped that the public will respond to the efforts of the cast by turning out in force on each night.

The funds realized from this entertainment will be used by the Lions Club to further its extensive civic program, outlined for this season. Tickets are already being offered for sale, and are going like hot cakes. The cost is very reasonable, being $1 plus the tax.

Announcements of the principals in the cast and the song hits, with other details of the Minstrel Mimics, will be published later.

Mrs. M. F. Games Writes Chief of Police Asking His Whereabouts

Mrs. M. F. Games, of 2322 Broadway, Everett, Washington, has written to Chief of Police, Roy N. Zierke, asking assistance in locating Henry Trewie, whom she states was formerly a resident of Brainerd.

In her letter, Mrs. Games states that Mr. Trewie lived in this city 43 years ago, and was both a painter and a butcher. He married Miss Annie McDonald, to which union two daughters were born. One died in 1881, the other was born the following year.

His second marriage was to Miss Maggie Whalen, of whom the letter states early residents will recall as singing in the local Catholic church choir in the early eighties.

Any who may know of the whereabouts of Mr. Trewie are asked to advise the chief of police, or to write to Mrs. Games direct.

L. Dow, Representing Brainerd Gas & Electric Co. to Speak at Chamber of Commerce

STORY OF MUCH INTEREST

Advantage of Gas From a Community Standpoint Will be Explained

The story of industrial gas will be told by L. Dow, representing the Brainerd Gas and Electric Company, at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening.

This story will be of unusual interest to local citizens, and it is hoped that a large number will turn out to hear Mr. Dow. There are 5,000 industrial uses for gas, and the speaker will explain some of the most important of these that can be used to good advantage in Brainerd.

The advantages of gas from a community viewpoint will be explained by the speaker, with a description of the new methods used at the Brainerd plant in its manufacture. The fact that gas is smokeless is of considerable importance, for smoke does more damage annually than is generally realized, says Mr. Dow.

Comparisons in the gas rates of Brainerd and other cities will be made and explained. The address will be followed by an open forum, at which questions may be asked regarding the local gas situation.

Action will be taken at the Chamber meeting for entertaining the Minneapolis wholesalers who will be in Brainerd May 23rd on their friendship tour.

Matters of importance relative to the "Trade at Home" campaign and the improving of the athletic park will be taken up. All members of the Chamber are asked to make a special effort to attend Wednesday's meeting.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON HOLIDAY

For First National Bank Employees During the Months of June, July, and August

The First National Bank is again preparing to observe the Saturday hours this year according to the action taken by the Directors about a year ago when they amended the By-Laws by making the business hours for Saturday from 9 o'clock A. M. to 1 o'clock P. M., during the months of June, July and August.

This will enable the employees to enjoy a few more hours of out door recreation during the summer season, thereby better fitting themselves physically for their work during the long, cold winter months to follow.

This plan seemed to work very successfully last season and it is hoped that the patrons of the bank will enter into the spirit of the change, made for the benefit of the employees, and arrange their business in such a manner as to avoid any inconvenience.

WHERE IS THAT OLD BASEBALL SCANDAL? Y DEFEATED

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 12.—So completely does the source of a certain lot of excitement last fall seem to have been forgotten that a casual reference to it might bring the question—"What scandal?"

There was a baseball scandal last fall that looked so bad that Ban Johnson, president of the American League, wanted the world's series called off unless the New York Giants were declared ineligible as the representatives of the National League.

For the benefit of those who did not hear of the scandal, a brief history of it will be repeated.

Heinie Sand, a shortstop for the Philadelphia Nationals, went to his manager and told him that Jimmy O'Connell, an outfielder from the Pacific Coast, who had cost the New York Giants $75,000, had approached him and told him that there was $500 in it for him if he wouldn't "bear down."

There were only two more games to be played and the Giants needed one to clinch the National League pennant and get into the world's series.

Sand's manager told John Heydler, president of the National League, and Heydler told Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball. Landis grabbed a train for New York and called O'Connell on the carpet. O'Connell told him that Cozy Dolan, one of the Giant coaches, told him to do it and he obeyed orders of his superior.

O'Connell said also that Frank Frisch, captain of the team, Ross Young, outfielder, and George Kelly, first baseman, knew what he had been asked to do and told him to go ahead.

Landis called in Dolan, Frisch, Young and Kelly. Dolan couldn't remember a thing. Frisch said that a lot of kidding was going on around a pennant-contending club. Young and Kelly said they didn't know anything about it.

Landis gave O'Connell and Dolan the air and he absolved Frisch, Young and Kelly and ordered—"On with the world's series. Let Ban Johnson keep his shirt on."

Finally the transcript of the testimony was given to the newspapers and a demand was made for an investigation by the New York district attorney's office. Landis turned over the evidence, with an opinion that it wouldn't hold in any court.

The district attorney investigated. All of the players involved, with the exception of O'Connell, appeared for examination. O'Connell refused to place himself within the jurisdiction of a New York court unless he was granted immunity. He didn't get it and he didn't show up.

The district attorney reported that he would not ask the grand jury for an indictment unless the commissioner wanted him to do it. The commissioner said he would consider it. The commissioner also said that the case never would be closed as long as any of the players involved was alive.

The scandal apparently died there. Nothing has been heard of it since then from official quarters. Dolan and O'Connell apparently have accepted their fate and are saying nothing. Frisch, Young and Kelly are playing with a team that is dashing for another National League pennant. Landis is visiting ball parks and playing golf. The club owners want to know "What scandal?" when you ask them about it.

The attitude of the club owners apparently is that the fans have short memories and that those who do peer into the dark corners of the closet once in a while are the "Well, what of it?" kind.

The Giants have been razzed about it in Brooklyn, but it is purely partisanship that makes the Brooklyn fans ride the Giants about anything. Heinie Sand, who turned in the squawk that uncovered the attempted bribery, was cheered generously at all the Eastern stops.

Apparently the "scandal" is dead and buried.

PETERSON PITCHED FOR THE WINNERS, GETTING BAD START

WAS AIDED BY FAST DOUBLE AND TRIPLE PLAY

The Y. M. C. A. defeated the B. A. C. team last night, in an extra-inning game at the Koering grounds, 10-6. Considering that this was the first game of the season, it was a remarkably well-played game, some airtight defense work, and good base-running being shown.

Peterson pitched for the winners, and after a bad start, settled down to a steady pace. He worked himself out of several holes during the game, aided by a double play and a triple play.

The feature of the game was a triple play by the Y. M. C. A. infield in the fifth inning. Sandgren, first up, hit through the right side of the infield. Brick, next up, hit to Bollens, who let the ball go through him in his hurry to make a double killing.

Sandgren landing on second and Brick on first. Niemi then hit a fast bouncer to Peterson, who threw to Thorkildson on third, forcing Sandgren; Thorkildson whipped the ball across the diamond to Dillan, getting Niemi, and Dillan threw back to Thorkildson to get Brick, who was trying to reach third on the play. In the third inning the winners worked a double play, short to second first.

The first part of the game looked dark for the Y. M. C. A. Soderlund, who started on the mound for the B. A. C., held the opposition to one hit and no runs in three innings. Then Lefty Jones took up the burden, and with a five run lead, looked good for a winner. But his wildness spelled his defeat. The Y men were willing to wait him out, and worked him for six passes, which coupled with three hit batsmen and seven hits, netted ten runs in the remaining four innings.

The hitting of the B. A. C. team was superior to that of their opponents, three of their twelve hits being good for two bases. But the Y hit when hits were needed, and all their hits counted toward runs except one hit in the first inning. Stars with the willow were J. Thompson and Niemi, each with a single and two-bagger, and L. Thompson, Sandgren, Anderson, Ringer and Thorkildson, with two singles each.

WHERE IS THAT OLD BASEBALL SCANDAL? Y DEFEATED

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 12.—So completely does the source of a certain lot of excitement last fall seem to have been forgotten that a casual reference to it might bring the question—"What scandal?"

There was a baseball scandal last fall that looked so bad that Ban Johnson, president of the American League, wanted the world's series called off unless the New York Giants were declared ineligible as the representatives of the National League.

For the benefit of those who did not hear of the scandal, a brief history of it will be repeated.

Heinie Sand, a shortstop for the Philadelphia Nationals, went to his manager and told him that Jimmy O'Connell, an outfielder from the Pacific Coast, who had cost the New York Giants $75,000, had approached him and told him that there was $500 in it for him if he wouldn't "bear down."

There were only two more games to be played and the Giants needed one to clinch the National League pennant and get into the world's series.

Sand's manager told John Heydler, president of the National League, and Heydler told Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball. Landis grabbed a train for New York and called O'Connell on the carpet. O'Connell told him that Cozy Dolan, one of the Giant coaches, told him to do it and he obeyed orders of his superior.

O'Connell said also that Frank Frisch, captain of the team, Ross Young, outfielder, and George Kelly, first baseman, knew what he had been asked to do and told him to go ahead.

Landis called in Dolan, Frisch, Young and Kelly. Dolan couldn't remember a thing. Frisch said that a lot of kidding was going on around a pennant-contending club. Young and Kelly said they didn't know anything about it.

Landis gave O'Connell and Dolan the air and he absolved Frisch, Young and Kelly and ordered—"On with the world's series. Let Ban Johnson keep his shirt on."

Finally the transcript of the testimony was given to the newspapers and a demand was made for an investigation by the New York district attorney's office. Landis turned over the evidence, with an opinion that it wouldn't hold in any court.

The district attorney investigated. All of the players involved, with the exception of O'Connell, appeared for examination. O'Connell refused to place himself within the jurisdiction of a New York court unless he was granted immunity. He didn't get it and he didn't show up.

The district attorney reported that he would not ask the grand jury for an indictment unless the commissioner wanted him to do it. The commissioner said he would consider it. The commissioner also said that the case never would be closed as long as any of the players involved was alive.

The scandal apparently died there. Nothing has been heard of it since then from official quarters. Dolan and O'Connell apparently have accepted their fate and are saying nothing. Frisch, Young and Kelly are playing with a team that is dashing for another National League pennant. Landis is visiting ball parks and playing golf. The club owners want to know "What scandal?" when you ask them about it.

The attitude of the club owners apparently is that the fans have short memories and that those who do peer into the dark corners of the closet once in a while are the "Well, what of it?" kind.

The Giants have been razed about it in Brooklyn, but it is purely partisanship that makes the Brooklyn fans ride the Giants about anything.

Heinie Sand, who turned in the squawk that uncovered the attempted bribery, was cheered generously at all the Eastern stops.

Apparently the "scandal" is dead and buried.

ST. CLOUD DEFEATED COLD SPRINGS 2 TO 0

St. Cloud, May 12.—In the opening baseball game of the season here, St. Cloud won from Cold Springs, 2 to 0, in a Central Minnesota league contest. Jaeger for St. Cloud and Schauer for Cold Springs each held his opponents to four hits. Good fielding featured the game.

COLD WEATHER SHUT OFF GAME

Crosby and the N. P. Shops team did not play Sunday at Crosby on account of the chilly weather. The game was postponed to next Sunday at the same grounds.

Amsterdam, May 12.—Amsterdam has decided definitely not to give up the 1928 Olympic games, the Holland committee announced in making an appeal to the public for funds to promote the games. The failure of the government to pass a subsidy to finance the games was blamed upon partisan politics.

B. A. C. TEAM, 10 TO 6 SCORE

PETERSON PITCHED FOR THE WINNERS, GETTING BAD START

WAS AIDED BY FAST DOUBLE AND TRIPLE PLAY

The Y. M. C. A. defeated the B. A. C. team last night, in an extra-inning game at the Koering grounds, 10-6. Considering that this was the first game of the season, it was a remarkably well-played game, some airtight defense work, and good base-running being shown.

Peterson pitched for the winners, and after a bad start, settled down to a steady pace. He worked himself out of several holes during the game, aided by a double play and a triple play.

The feature of the game was a triple play by the Y. M. C. A. infield in the fifth inning. Sandgren, first up, hit through the right side of the infield. Brick, next up, hit to Bolens, who let the ball go through him in his hurry to make a double killing. Sandgren landing on second and Brick on first. Niemi then hit a fast bouncer to Peterson, who threw to Thorkildson on third, forcing Sandgren; Thorkildson whipped the ball across the diamond to Dillan, getting Niemi, and Dillan threw back to Thorkildson to get Brick, who was trying to reach third on the play. In the third inning the winners worked a double play, short to second to first.

The first part of the game looked dark for the Y. M. C. A. Soderlund, who started on the mound for the B. A. C., held the opposition to one hit and no runs in three innings. Then Lefty Jones took up the burden, and with a five run lead, looked good for a winner. But his wildness spelled his defeat. The Y men were willing to wait him out, and worked him for six passes, which coupled with three hit batsmen and seven hits, netted ten runs in the remaining four innings.

The hitting of the B. A. C. team was superior to that of their opponents, three of their twelve hits being good for two bases. But the Y hit when hits were needed, and all their hits counted toward runs except one hit in the first inning. Stars with the willow were J. Thompson and Niemi, each with a single and two-bagger, and L. Thompson, Sandgren, Anderson, Ringer and Thorkildson, with two singles each.
